The MCLA Off-Campus Student Guide
2011-2012

MCLA Off-Campus Student Guide
2011-2012

MCLA is fortunate to be situated in the beautiful Berkshires, an area renowned for its natural beauty, brilliant foliage, professional theater and world class museums.

The Berkshires also offer restaurants, shopping centers and nightlife. The MCLA Off-Campus Guide is published once a year and is designed for MCLA students as a resource for recreational and cultural activities in the area. It helps MCLA students take full advantage of their community, both on and off campus. Also, students use this and other publications to become familiar with organizations and opportunities for community service and service-learning in the region.

Some of the Berkshires' best attractions are not within walking distance, but don't let transportation deter you. Consider taking Berkshire County's public bus system; or better yet, if you live on campus, ask your Resident Advisor to organize an excursion or use the MCLA Shuttle. If you live off campus, talk with the Student Development Office about organizing a trip to one of the many Berkshire County cultural and recreational sites.

We hope the 2011-2012 school year is the most fun yet!

Service-Learning/Volunteer Opportunities

Community service allows students to make a positive difference in their community, meet local leaders and residents, and build up on skills acquired in the classroom. Paid student leadership positions are available.

Service-learning is a method of instruction where students learn specified course material by means of active participation in service to the community. Academic learning is generated by community service experiences and made explicit through one or more methods of reflection. In this fashion, service learning promotes academic learning in a context of social, moral, and civic responsibility.

Students are encouraged to expand upon service-learning opportunities, considering ways service-learning can be employed in their classes and/or as a way to extend learning content beyond the class meeting times.

Staff in the Center for Service welcome the opportunity to help students locate community service and service-learning sites.

The most complete reference for information about service-learning and community service opportunities in the area is located in the Center for Service and Citizenship, Amsler Campus Center, Room 307, 662-5251,www.mcla.edu/centerforservice.

"It's one of the beautiful compensations of this life that no one can sincerely try to help another without helping himself." — Henry David Thoreau

"Never doubt that a small group of committed citizens can change the world, indeed it is the only thing that ever has." – Margaret Mead

Waterfalls

Berkshire County offers a score of waterfalls and cascades of various sizes and volume. They offer cool relief on a hot day and help create an environment to achieve peace of mind in any kind of weather.

The Cascades
Follow the trail beginning on Marion Avenue in North Adams along Notch Brook for about a half a mile. The falls drop about 50 feet, through remarkable folds of rocks.

Peck Falls

Money Brook Falls
Turn off Rt. 7 in Lanesboro at the signs for the Mount Greylock State Reservation. Drive up Rockwell Road to Sperry Road Campgrounds. Drive through the campground to the end of the road. Follow the Money Brook Trail for 2.5 miles. A well-marked side trail takes you to the falls.

Tannery Falls
Drive down Central Shaft Road in Florida, following signs for Savoy Mountain State Forest. Turn left onto Burnett Road, turning into Tannery Road. Two long slender falls come together to form Tannery Brook.

Windsor Jams
Take River Road in Savoy to the Windsor State Forest. The trail begins behind the restrooms. Turn right at the fork to come out at the bottom of the gorge.

Bash Bish Falls
The most spectacular waterfall in the Commonwealth. Take East Street from South Egremont onto the Mount Washington plateau. Turn right at the church and follow the sign to Falls Road and Bash Bish parking lot.

Wahconah Falls
Follow Route 9 out of Dalton, turning right at Dalton Tractor on Wahconah Road. Continue for a mile up the gravel road to a parking lot. The falls, below a reservoir, dive deeply over ledges in a deep gulf.

Swimming

Very few people think of sun and surf when they think of the Berkshires, but during the warm seasons there are plenty of natural and man-made water bodies to enjoy. Regardless of the season, the Amsler Campus Center Pool is always open for students.

Campus Center Pool 413-662-5256
Amsler Campus Center
Open daily, call for hours.

Clarksburg State Forest
Middle Road, Clarksburg
A small swimming pond, but very tranquil. If the gate is locked, park at the entrance and walk down the road on the right to get to the pond. The park is home to a flock of Canadian geese.

North Pond
Central Shaft Road, Savoy
Very scenic, spring-fed pond with a sandy beach.

Rope Swing and Swimming Hole
Go up the trail (Rt. 2 East) and make a left after the first bridge. Follow the signs for Rowe and the Yankee Power Plant. A half mile down on the left, directly across from a trailer park, make a left onto a dirt road. Park in the dirt parking area next to the railroad tracks. Follow trail to the swing and swimming hole.

Ward's Beach
Rt. 100, Wilmington, VT
About 35 miles from campus on the reservoir.

Windsor Lake (aka Fish Pond)
Bradley Street, North Adams
City park with swimming pond within walking distance of the college.

Picnics

The Berkshires are graced with rare natural beauty, from the breathtaking foliage to the budding gardens of spring, and picnicking is a relaxing and inexpensive way to take advantage of this lush environment. You can use your ARAMARK meal card or pay cash for a boxed breakfast, lunch or dinner to take along with you. For more information, call Grayce Rarick, Catering Supervisor for ARAMARK, at ext. 5238.

Clarksburg State Park
Middle Road, Clarksburg
The abundant, unspoiled forest offers breathtaking views (especially during fall foliage) of both the Berkshire Hills and Green Mountains.

Deer Park
Rt. 7, Bennington, VT
(near the Veteran's Home)

Field Farm
Sloane Avenue, Williamstown

Mt. Hope
Rt. 43, Williamstown

Natural Bridge 413-663-6392
Rt. 8 North, Clarksburg
Beautiful marble rock formations only a ten minute drive from the college.

Pittsfield State Forest
Cascade Street, Pittsfield
Streams, waterfalls, and flowering shrubs abound. A dam holds the clear cold stream water of Lulu Brook in a basin for swimming. Berry Pond is the highest natural water body in Massachusetts.

Savoy Mountain State Park
Florida Road, Savoy
Scenic ponds with wooded edges and hills rising in the distance offer tranquil places for picnicking. The abundant mountain laurel is a real treat.

Spruce Hill
Best view of the Greylock Mountain Range. Take Rt. 2 East, making a right onto Central Shaft Road. Park on a broad gravel road to the left or right of the sharp curve. Start walking up the logging road on the right of the curve, then follow Busby Trail on the right. The trail is 3/4 of a mile long, starting out flat and wet, then getting steep.

Stafford Hill Monument
Stafford Hill Road, Cheshire
From the center of Adams, head Northeast on Rt. 116. Drive up Orchard Street and make a right turn after the high school on your left. Bear left up a hill for about half a mile.

Windsor Lake (aka Fishpond)
Bradley Street, North Adams

Windsor State Forest 413-684-0948
River Road, Windsor
1,626 acres, perfect for picnicking.

Mountain Biking

Interest in mountain biking over the last few years is increasing and the Berkshire mountains are ideal for this activity. Choose one of the detailed trails below, or explore one of the many area state parks.

Mount Snow 800-245-SNOW
45 miles of terrain
Mount Snow, VT

Zavattaro Athletic Complex Trail
Take West Shaft Road in North Adams to the baseball field and follow the dirt road.

Greylock Glen

Savoy Mountain State Forest
Florida Road, Savoy
Miles of wooded trails invite recreational use of the forest in all seasons.

Stamford, VT Trail
Take Rt. 8 North for about 6 miles. Just past the school (on your right), make a left past the Community Church onto Mill Road. This road will turn into a gravel road called Country Road. After the road flattens out, take a left onto West Road which takes you back down into Clarksburg then North Adams, 18 miles total.

Windsor Lake (aka Fish Pond)
Pedal around the lake or take any dirt road off the beaten path.

For more information about trails in the area, contact the Massachusetts Forests and Parks at 413-499-4262 or 413-499-4263.

Boating, Canoeing and Sailing

Getting the chance to go canoeing or kayaking can be quite a relaxing experience; the gentle water laps against your boat. Remember, the college has equipment available for all members of the college community. Hiking

Of all the attractions in the Berkshires, some of the most spectacular and popular are those that are natural, not man-made. Hikers tell us that the best way to experience the area's natural splendor is to travel on foot. Each week The Advocate newspaper lists hikes and cross-country excursions (weather dependent). Be sure to pick up a copy and find out about hikes you could join with a group.

Some Favorite Trails

Appalachian Trail
The famous Appalachian Trail passes over Mt. Greylock. Call Bascom Lodge at 413-743-1591 for trail information.

Broad Brook Trail
This trail parallels Broad Brook, which flows southwest between the Dome and East Mountain. No swimming or camping is allowed. The trail begins just south of the Broad Brook Bridge in Williamstown on the right. The trail starts as a dirt road through a field and then passes through an open gate in a chain-link fence before entering the woods.

Cheshire Harbor Trail
This trail begins on West Mountain Road in Adams. It crosses a small brook and terminates at Rockwell Road, intersecting with the Appalachian Trail.

The Cheshire Cobbles
Furnace Hill Road, Cheshire
A rock ledge that offers a beautiful view of the surrounding mountains. Take Rt. 8 South to Cheshire. When you come to a big white church and a traffic light, turn left onto Church Street. Go over railroad tracks, make a right at the fork, and take the next immediate right onto Furnace Hill Road. Park at the dead end, then turn to the left and hike for about 30 minutes.

Hopper Trail
This trail begins at the entrance of Mt. Hope Park at Sweet's Corner. It ascends the south side of the Hopper (Stony Ledge), then turns toward the summit of Mt. Greylock.

Pine Cobble Trail
This trail begins on North Hoosac Road in Williamstown with a parking lot for hikers on the left. Pine Cobble summit has an elevation of 1,894 feet and offers a panoramic view of the Williamstown valley.

Thunderbolt Trail

Other Places to Roam
