The Bernstein Internship Scholarship

The Bernstein Internship Scholarship will award four $4,000 journalism internships in 2013. The scholarship guidelines include a preferred GPA of 3.0, and students must be qualified for Financial Aid. Preference will be for internships out of Berkshire County, so this is a good opportunity to line up a paid internship in your hometown for next summer! The scholarship booklets from Financial Aid outlining the application process will be out in early March 2013. Mark your calendars!

Commonwealth Scholar Thesis Presentation TODAY

Date: Friday, December 7
Time: 2 pm
Location: Murdock 208

The Honors Program will be conducting a presentation and defense of its latest Commonwealth Scholar thesis. The paper is "Beyond Belletrism: The Philosophical Core of Literature" by Nicole Braden, English/Communications major, directed by Rosanne Denhard with Susan Edgerton, Matt Silliman, and Williams College’s Bernie Rhie as readers.

SPIRES Submissions - Deadline December 21st

Don’t forget! Submission Deadline for Spires is December 21st. Email submissions to mclaspires@gmail.com.

Alumni Update

Edward Damon, 2012, has accepted a position as a news reporters for the North Adams Transcript. He will be covering the Williamstown beat.

On behalf of the English/Communications department we would like to congratulate Edward on his accomplishments.

Emily Dickinson Museum Tour Group

On December 1st, English/Communications, Lambda Iota Tau, and Resident Advisor, Jesse McMillan, sponsored a group of students to tour the Emily Dickinson house and museum in Amherst, MA. Stay tuned for future English/Communications sponsored events.

Have information you would like included in the next e-letter? Email Jennifer Dermady at j.dermady@mcla.edu.

Photo taken by Jesse McMillan