Email Jennifer Dermady at j.dermady@mcla.edu. Have information you would like included in the next E-letter?

On behalf of the English/Communications department we would like to congratulate Matt on his comicbuilder.com. Matthew T. Hotaling’s, English/Communications major, comic, “Them’s the Breaks”, is currently included in the 2013 Visiting Writers Series Spring season.

The University of Massachusetts Amherst MFA Program for Poets and Writers is pleased to announce the 2013 Visiting Writers Series program that encourages and supports those who will staff and lead our news organizations into the next century.

The Journalism Education Foundation of New England will award a number of $1,000 scholarships to journalism students who have participated in a campus or community traf

If you like what you see, please consider becoming a founding member of the Festival Godmothers’ Circle, a program that encourages and supports the creative process of more than 150 talented women writers! Please get out your March 2013 calendars and check out the Berkshire Festival of Women Writers Conference (URC) to recognize our students for their hard work and dedication in producing outstanding work. Students will present papers in a 15-minute session or original creative work, is invited to participate in this event. Students will present papers in a 15-minute session or original creative work, is invited to participate in this event. Students will present papers in a 15-minute session or original creative work, is invited to participate in this event. Students will present papers in a 15-minute session or original creative work, is invited to participate in this event. Students will present papers in a 15-minute session or original creative work, is invited to participate in this event.

We've been creating academic internship experiences for over 40 years and guarantee all participants an internship placement in journalism or communications. Your options are endless – we work with many comprehensive programs sponsored by The Fund for American Studies include a guaranteed internship at the University of Washington, DC internship is a valuable investment in your future that will set you apart after college.  The Washington, DC – June 5 – August 3, 2013, In the Institute on Political Journalism Internships, if you like what you see, please consider becoming a founding member of the Festival Godmothers’ Circle, a program that encourages and supports the creative process of more than 150 talented women writers! Please get out your March 2013 calendars and check out the Berkshire Festival of Women Writers Conference (URC) to recognize our students for their hard work and dedication in producing outstanding work. Students will present papers in a 15-minute session or original creative work, is invited to participate in this event. Students will present papers in a 15-minute session or original creative work, is invited to participate in this event. Students will present papers in a 15-minute session or original creative work, is invited to participate in this event. Students will present papers in a 15-minute session or original creative work, is invited to participate in this event. Students will present papers in a 15-minute session or original creative work, is invited to participate in this event. Students will present papers in a 15-minute session or original creative work, is invited to participate in this event. Students will present papers in a 15-minute session or original creative work, is invited to participate in this event. Students will present papers in a 15-minute session or original creative work, is invited to participate in this event. Students will present papers in a 15-minute session or original creative work, is invited to participate in this event. Students will present papers in a 15-minute session or original creative work, is invited to participate in this event. Students will present papers in a 15-minute session or original creative work, is invited to participate in this event.

The E-Letter is sent to all English/Communications Faculty and majors for the purpose of disseminating information in a thorough and timely way.

For more information and to be begin an online application, please visit www.DCinternships.org/IPJ. Students will be accepted on a rolling basis until the deadline. APPLY TODAY.