A Note from the Department Chairperson

On behalf of the faculty and staff, welcome—or welcome back—to the English/Communications Department at MCLA.

In this newsletter, we will discuss the upcoming English/Communications Reading Series, the BA/BA program, and the English/Communications Undergraduate Research Conference.

The English/Communications Reading Series will feature a variety of events, including readings, workshops, and lectures. These events are open to the public and provide an opportunity to engage with established and emerging writers. Proposals for readings, workshops, or other events showcasing the work of established or emerging writers are due by September 1.

The BA/BA program in English/Communications is designed to provide students with a comprehensive education in the literary and media arts. The program offers a range of courses in literature, creative writing, and media studies, as well as opportunities for research and independent study. Proposals for the BA/BA program are due by September 1.

The English/Communications Undergraduate Research Conference is an annual event that showcases the research and scholarship of undergraduate students in the English/Communications Department. The conference provides a platform for students to present their research and engage with faculty and peers. Proposals for the conference are due by September 1.

The English/Communications Department at MCLA is committed to providing a high-quality education in the literary and media arts. We hope that you will join us in our upcoming events and activities.

Sincerely,
[Signature]
Department Chairperson

---

Proposals:

Proposals must contain the following information:

1. Proposal title
2. A brief summary of the event, including its purpose, target audience, and location
3. A brief bios of event participants
4. A brief description of the event

Proposals will be reviewed by the Department Chairperson and the Department Faculty. Proposals will be selected based on their relevance to the English/Communications Reading Series, the BA/BA program, and the English/Communications Undergraduate Research Conference.

E-mail: [E-mail address]

---

A Note from the Department Chairperson

We welcome your proposals for events, workshops, and lectures that showcase the work of established and emerging writers. These events provide an opportunity to engage with established and emerging writers. Proposals for events, workshops, or other events showcasing the work of established or emerging writers are due by September 1.

Proposals should include the following information:

1. Proposal title
2. A brief summary of the event, including its purpose, target audience, and location
3. A brief bios of event participants
4. A brief description of the event

E-mail: [E-mail address]

---

A Note from the Department Chairperson

We are pleased to announce the upcoming English/Communications Reading Series, which will feature a variety of events, including readings, workshops, and lectures. These events are open to the public and provide an opportunity to engage with established and emerging writers. Proposals for events, workshops, or other events showcasing the work of established or emerging writers are due by September 1.

Proposals should include the following information:

1. Proposal title
2. A brief summary of the event, including its purpose, target audience, and location
3. A brief bios of event participants
4. A brief description of the event

E-mail: [E-mail address]

---

A Note from the Department Chairperson

We are excited to announce the upcoming BA/BA program in English/Communications. The program offers a comprehensive education in the literary and media arts, with a range of courses in literature, creative writing, and media studies, as well as opportunities for research and independent study. Proposals for the program are due by September 1.

Proposals should include the following information:

1. Proposal title
2. A brief summary of the program, including its purpose, target audience, and location
3. A brief bios of event participants
4. A brief description of the program

E-mail: [E-mail address]

---

A Note from the Department Chairperson

We are thrilled to announce the upcoming English/Communications Undergraduate Research Conference. The conference provides a platform for undergraduate students to present their research and engage with faculty and peers. Proposals for the conference are due by September 1.

Proposals should include the following information:

1. Proposal title
2. A brief summary of the conference, including its purpose, target audience, and location
3. A brief bios of event participants
4. A brief description of the conference

E-mail: [E-mail address]