25th ANNIVERSARY OF RADIO BROADCASTING

QUARTER CENTURY OF PROGRESS CELEBRATED NOV. 5 - 11

National networks and radio stations, broadcasting associations, technical societies and other groups marked the 25th anniversary of commercial broadcasting this past week. So commonly accepted are the marvelous advances in radio that today's generation little realizes the amount of research and millions of dollars that have been expended to bring into their homes the spot news of the world plus entertainment and cultural programs of high caliber.

FREQUENCY MODULATION AND TELEVISION HERALD NEW ERA IN ART OF LIVING

This phenomenal progress of the past 25 years will, doubtless, be surpassed during the next 25. Its degree once beyond man's imagination. "F.M." or Frequency Modulation and "Video" or Television hold the headlines in the daily press. Yet so fast do new developments come, that before one can

RMA Makes Unique Award on 25th Birthday of Radio Broadcasting

The week of November 5th to 11th, commemorating the 25th Anniversary of Radio Broadcasting, presented special programs over the air. The ceremony at which a statuette was given to the National Association of Broadcasters was broadcast on November 7th from the Carleton Hotel in Washington. The statuette was presented to Mr. Justin Miller, President of NAB, by Mr. R. C. Congrove, President of the Radio Manufacturers Association.

Local ceremonies marking the presentation of replicas of the statuette in plaque form to all radio stations and networks occurred throughout the week.

Living Memorial

Instead of the wooden and stone memorials erected to commemorate World War I, a living and fitting memorial is being planned to pay tribute to the veterans of World War II. Plans are being formulated to set aside a great grove of redwoods in the forest of the Pacific Coast as a living tribute to World War II veterans, revolutionizing teaching. The three "K"s of learning—"Readin','"Ritin'" and "Rithmetic"—are expanded to include that big R — radio.

Educational leaders realize that they failed to make the most of the opportunity offered in the radio field, and are now rushing to get front seats on the educational radio bandwagon. The Federal Communications Commission, in its re-allocation of the radio spectrum has been requested to increase the channels for FM educational broadcasting from 5 to 20. Thirty-one states have signified their intention of using FM channels. The states will set up their own networks, under the guidance of state boards of education. All radio stations are now extending their educational programs, similar to those already in use in Chicago, New York and San Francisco and at the Universities of Illinois and Kentucky.

U.S. LEADS FIELD IN RADAR

-Related by Ex-Serviceman, Coody

George Coody, from his own personal experience knows how important was the radar tower playing in winning the war in the Pacific area. After serving three years and three months in the U. S. Navy, he is now working in the Maintenance Department and tells us with pride of some of his experiences. He states the ship on which he was serving was one of the first to knock down an enemy plane at night firing by Radar Control.

Interesting was the story he related of the time when his ship, the Radford, one of a task force bound for New Georgia in the Solomones, was notified by their radar plane, the "Black Cat" that enemy ships had been located. Information of the position, speed and general direction of the enemy was radioed from the plane to the Flagship, 30 tons. This shipping of the enemy by the plane was made possible only through Radar.

Immediately the Flagship proceeded by means of its Radar to locate the position of the enemy and all were ordered to their battle alert positions. With the Radar and guns on target, several ships were destroyed and the rest dispersed. It was on July 5th and 6th, when we at home were observing July 4th that this sea battle took place.

The provision technique of Radar can be readily verified with the sinking of an enemy ship as far away as 18,000 yards. To Radford goes much of the credit for the low figure in the loss of men and ships of this country. With it George feels confident our losses would have been terrible. His praises of this great discovery know no bounds and he says, quote, "The field of Radar will be one of the outstanding Electrical Industries and its miraculous aid in war will become a most beneficial aid to mankind in civilian life."

Of the Sprague Electric Company and its employees, he says: "Little did they realize the all-important part they played in this war. Not only did they produce and contribute components for Radar, the VT Fuse and the Atomic Bomb, but also for the "Sounding Gear." (Continued on Page 3)

Peace

Thanksgiving and Christmas will be celebrated throughout America. —celebrated as never before in our time, for this is the year of Victory and Peace.

Recently, we will give thanks for the glory as dearly bought.

Our other side,—we must first and finally grasp the fact that THIS WORLD NEEDS MOST OF ALL rapid fulfillment.

It is stark necessity. if our children are to survive and end the war as we know it, we must have a world in which each and every child can grow up in a home where love is given and love is returned.

There is not a factory worker who does not feel the impact of this war on his home life. We can feel this impact as we stand at our machines in the shops. But it is not enough to feel.

We must understand that the world needs us. We must grasp the fact that our efforts are needed. We must realize that our work is of the utmost importance. We must understand that we are part of a great crusade.

And so, as we celebrate Thanksgiving and Christmas, let us remember the past and look forward to the future. Let us remember the sacrifices of our forefathers and let us be inspired by their example. Let us remember that we are not alone in this struggle, but that we stand united with all who seek a world of peace and justice.

The continued cooperation of our military leaders and the support of the American people, will ensure our victory. We are a country of peace, and we shall be the peace makers of the future.

Mr. and Mrs. Simon announce the birth of their daughter, Frances Safiti. She is visiting her sailor husband for two weeks. He is now in New York. Congratulations to Elizabeth Friley, who celebrated her 80th anniversary on the 28th of October. Happy birthday to Caroline Grand, whose birthday occurred on October 28th, and Happy birthday to Miss Fenley, who celebrated her birthday on November 1st. Mina received a lovely birthday cake from her co-workers. Helen returned recently, spent a week end visiting her mother at St. Johnsbury, Vt.

By the way, Eunice, did you ever notice the movie or the sleep? "V" implies her finally come back, but I suppose a fellow would enjoy a bunch with her "hubba."

I wonder why little Eva Lowburcin is walking around with her hands on her hips all the time? Come on Eva, tell something.

We have a new "Sonozzata" in our department. everyday Elaine Anderson from Franke, she just falls to the floor. If you want to know how to Plumina, ask Mrs. Wittig. She'll teach you in ten easy little lessons.

Margaret Malone, what do you expect those Ronco, Lasta, and swing, gold or men? May I ask you a question, "Doc"? What is that exactly? Just exactly what do you carry in that hub? Three guesses, "Doc".

Fiddle! Fiddle! Three easy lessons in the Polish Language instructor Harold Canse. Beloved greetings to Mary Zajac and Martha Wittig, on their birthdays which they celebrated recently.

A delicious meal and meat balls was served by Mrs. Train, assisted by her daughter, Mary, Millie Keuffert and "Tete" Montagna. The delicious and the abs and what have been heard on all sides as Rose opened her gifts and showed the figures articles, they truly envied the lady.

We do wish you the best of luck, Rose. You will be very happy without them miss you around here is putting it mildly.

In appreciation, Rose did a dance for the gang. The big question is, "Where did the seven wells go?" Mostly the gang, also the advertising for dishwashers don't know a lot about it. Everybody and everybody in the downtown town. After drawing K.P. at the spaghetti supper, those two girls could easily fit into that line of work.

It seems that "Dad" Geigens doesn't believe in the saying: "E, to be late is better to arrive and keep all the girls happy that to marry and make one mishe-ter, too." It's just the opposite with him. He will make one girl happy and the rest miserable. The lucky girl is Edna Stu and the date is set for November 18. Good luck to both of you.

St. Anthony's Crusaders On Top

In the local gridiron world--St. Anthony's Crusaders some say a joy-ride has racked up wins in 7 games and the team has shown a great deal of spirit, ability and teamwork. The team has torn out of the state back to the locals and is a fine tribute to that team. The only team to beat them this year has racked up 6 wins in 7 games and the team has shown a great deal of spirit, ability and teamwork.

In the last period with the locals on the backfield for the 1st time, the only team to beat them this year was Mancuso, Garner, and Duquette, halfbacks; Magnifico, Skrumpski, Long, Fressola at the ends; E. Fatimam and Vadasis, quarterback, Barry, Moreau, Botto, Maginnis, Streed, running backs; O. Fatimam, Marchio, and Hill at fullback positions.

Credit To All

There are others who are equally great in their respective positions and the team does not try to show partiality.
