Company Donates $10,000 To Attract New Industries

The Company has given $10,000 "with no strings attached" for use in promoting industrial development of North Adams.

In making the offer, Robert C. Sprague, Chairman of the Board, and Julian K. Sprague, President, asked five local civic leaders to administer the fund. The five are Mayor Julius M. Calvi; City Manager Robert H. Harp; Editor of the North Adams Transcript James A. Hardiman; former Mayor Ernest H. Fonseca, now a member of the Planning Board; and Richard E. Pierce of the Northern Berkshire Electric Company.

Company's Letter

In a letter signed by Messrs. Sprague, the company said:

"We believe that we can best serve the long-range needs of North Adams by making this fund available to those experts who will encourage expansion and properly diversified manufacturing activities. We are therefore donating the sum of $10,000, such contribution to be used solely as a fund for the purpose of attracting new manufacturing industries to our city."

The letter went on to say that attention had been called to the "vital problems" by recent advertisements and the recent announcements that Windsor Print Works and Berkshire Hathaway were to open plants which would suspend operations in this city.

It continued, "We shall not retain nor do we want any control over the fund or the manner in which it may be used." The company does not consider, however, that its responsibility to the community has been discharged by the gift, the letter added.

Five Accept

The five appointed civic leaders have accepted the responsibility of administering the fund and an account for $10,000 has been opened with the North Adams Trust Company in the name of "Industrial Development Fund." In their letter of acceptance, the group stated: "We wish to extend our sincere thanks to the Sprague Electric Company for its generous contribution to the long range industrial development program of this city. We accept the responsibility for handling the $10,000 fund for the purposes outlined in your letter, dated June 16, 1956. Your continued assistance and support to the City of North Adams will be most helpful in our search for a solution to our industrial problem."

Your Company has taken this step because it realizes that it is only through a healthy community that we can continue to prosper and that it is only in a healthy community that you would desire to live.

Suggestions Pay Dividends to Nine Employes

Nine employees hit the suggestion jackpot to the tune of $350. Winners for the month were:

Robert Hamilton, Filtris, $50. Suggestion for a gig used in twisting heavy coil wires.

William Chapuyberg, Test Equipment, $15. Suggestion for stands to hold FP Boards and DXN bars while being repaired.

Cora Ryan, Magnetics, $25. Suggestion for a knife in manufacturing.

Morial Burdick, Shift Registers, two awards of $15 each. One was for a suggestion concerning cooling molds and the other for a rack for carrying magnetic units.

Charles Washburn, Industrial Oil Insulation, $15. Suggestion for restoring color of numerals on thermometers.

Bernard Gilmore, Shift Registers, $75. Suggestion for salvaging of improperly stamped caps.

Anthony Simufaworki, Tantalum Forming, $60. Suggestion for use of dividers in tantalum formation tanks.

Shirley Burnett and Madeline Kaczwski, Magnetics, $60. Suggestion for a change in assembly method for transformers.

Procedural Changes

During the past month, three changes have been made in the suggestion system. A special category award of $15 has been established.

The usual minimum award is $25; however, in some cases it is impossible to determine the savings which would result from adoption of the suggestion. In these cases, the initial award will be $15.

The two other changes have to deal with procedural matters.

No suggestion is eligible for an award if it is submitted as a suggestion more than 30 days after it has been placed in use. Last, an award can only be split when a suggestion includes more than one name when originally submitted.

Sprague Scholarship Total $2800

Drury High, Adams, St. Joseph's Youths Share Honors

Three Sprague Electric Company scholarships have been awarded this year to promising youngsters in the area. The scholarships, divided among three Northern Berkshire high schools, were presented at commencement activities following the past two weeks on the various schools.

Recipient of the awards were recognized for their scholastic abilities, leadership qualities, ambitions, and financial aid required for furthering their education.

Fred A. Windover II, of 214 Prospect Street, president this year of the Sprague Electric Scholarship Fund, presented the award certificate, emblematic of a $2,000 scholarship grant, made by Julian K. Sprague during Class Night ceremonies at Drury High School.

Mr. Windover becomes the 7th recipient of the Scholarship Award, which was established in 1950 to assist worthy North Adams students.

In addition to being the student government president this year, he was student government parliamentarian in his junior year, and president of the sophomore class, and is a member of Phi Mu Mu. Fred also participated in the junior and senior class plays and operettas. He ranked in the upper quartile of his class.

The second recipient of a Sprague Scholarship was Julian K. Sprague, a junior at St. Joseph's. Robert J. Clark, who received the Sprague Electric Engineering Scholarship Fund, William J. Nolan, vice-president in charge of Industrial Relations, presented the award at the Adams Memorial High School.

The Engineering Scholarship, which consists of a $500 grant, was established in 1952 to assist worthy men and women in obtaining a higher education in a co-operative-type course leading to a degree in science or one of the engineering fields.

Mr. Clark plans to enter Northeastern University and to major in electrical engineering. He graduated in the upper third of his class. A prominent athlete, he won letters in varsity basketball, baseball, and football. He also participated in the junior and senior class plays. He was co-captain his senior year. He served as vice-president of his class in his sophomore and junior years, and on numerous dance committees. He is a Phi Mu Mu student. Mr. Clark is the son of Mrs. Irene Clark of 5 First Street, Adams.

Miss Joan Boccagni of Readboro, Vermont, was awarded the Sprague Electric Company's 1956 Nursing Scholarship Award in ceremonies held at St. Francis Church Hall.

Miss Boccagni, a graduate of St. Joseph's Hospital School of Nursing, will benefit from a $500 grant which was established in 1954 to assist graduates of area high schools in attaining a higher education in the field of nursing.

Miss Boccagni plans to enter St. Luke's School of Nursing in Pittsfield this fall. She was in the upper 10th of her graduating class and has been active in many extra-curricular activities including the junior choir, school glee club and senior class play. She resides with her grandmother, Mrs. Olga M. Boccagni.
Amateur Radio Contest

Judging in three divisions of the Radio Development Ability contest sponsored by David Geiser, of Research & Engineering, and aimed at stimulating interest in amateur radio, recently took place in the Marshall street conference rooms.

Youngsters competed for prizes to be awarded for the youngest to hold any class of amateur radio operator license; for ability to construct radio sets; and for originality of design and technique in creating radio set material.

The Rev. Robert J. L. Williams, pastor of the First Methodist Church, judged the first contest. Michael Ploka of Adams was declared second place, having obtained his license at the age of 11½.

Julian K. Sprague, President, judged the constructional ability portion of the contest. First place winner was Ray Piantoni, North Adams, a repeater winner from last year. This year Ray won first place with his assembly of a Heathkit model KT1 amateur code transmitter.

James Kronick of Adams took second place with his entry being a power supply suitable for use with small receivers or small transmitters.

Leon Polubsky, Technical Assistant to the President, was judge for the third division. John M. Puppolo, whose father has recently transferred to the Concord Division, was first place winner for the originality of design and technique used in creating radio set material. His winning entry was a home-made tester for use with battery or house current. Second place winner Kronick submitted two entries, one involving use of plastic bottles for coil forms and insulation, the other, use of Venetian blind handles for high-voltage insulation.

Mr. Geiser said the entries were close together in originality and ingenuity and that in the end, the charity of the explanations submitted by the young contestants had a heavy bearing on the decisions of the judge. (Photo page 10.)

Siren Installed Atop Marshall Plant

A new air horn for use as a city fire siren has been installed atop the Marshall Street plant. The new horn, which will cover a wider area, replaces one which was originally steam operated. The fire alarm here at the plant and another one atop Drury High School are also used to sound a siren, and to call out the National Guard. It is anticipated that the new horn will end confusion on the fire signals. The old one sounded very much like a diesel train.

Long Slams Another as Pittsburgh Wins

Long's 16th Homer Helps Pirates Crush Cubs 8-2

For the second time, in less than a year, North Adams has come into the national eye as a result of activities in the sports world. Last fall light heavyweight champion Archie Moore chose this city as his training head-quarters while preparing for the championship bout with Rocky Marciano. This spring national key, Dale Long, has again placed North Adams in the spotlight with his outstanding achievements in the baseball world.

Dale sparked the rise of Pittsburgh Pirates to one of the top contenders for the National League pennant. No small part was played by his home run streak which set a new major league record.

The Longs, Dale married the former Evelyn Roback of Adams High School, and have two future ballplayers in the family. Dale, Jr., who is 6, and Johnny, a little over a year old.

Long could have turned professional in football since Green Bay wanted to sign him, but he chose baseball instead, signing with Milwaukee in the American Association when he got out of the service. He was sent to Lima in the Ohio State League where a .306 average resulted in his promotion to Ogden in the Pioneer League. He hit .331 for Ogden in 1946 and was moved to Otsonta for 1947, where he recorded a .347 average.

The next season found him with Lynn in the New England League and his great season there resulted in his drafting by Williamsport of the Eastern League. His .368 mark at Williamsport and his extra base totals led to Kansas City's drafting him in 1949. They optioned him to Birmingham and returned him to the K.C. roster after the season ended with him sporting a .286 average and 260 total bases. It was from K.C. that the Blues first drafted Long for his initial chance with Pittsburgh.

SPRAGUE BEAUTIES

COMPETE IN LOCAL PAGEANT

Bill Kirby crowns Beverly Dodge, a former Sprague employee, as "Miss Northern Berkshire." This now makes her eligible to compete in Beverly for the "Miss Massachusetts" title, which is the last stepping stone to the "Miss America" pageant in Atlantic City. The other two finalists in the contest were Patricia Brodacki and Stella Slosek.

The five Sprague girls form a lovely court for "Miss Northern Berkshire" at the completion of the pageant.

Belated birthday greetings to Doris Starr whose birthday was June 8. Dorothy Campbell who has worked in Sprague for over 15 years left us to move out of town and Jackie Shepard joined the team. ... Best wishes to Millie Kawa on her approaching marriage. It won't be long now, but it's still an unusual sort of all as us. ... Dry Rolling has acquired some new talent. We have two opera stars along with one Arthur Murray. Does anyone know how to identify an opera star? Welcome back to John Vaneour who was on leave. How does it feel, Fran? ... Anyone who is interested in fishing, please see Mary Cantoni for access to "Hoppy" Attalla, one of our mystery writers in the room these days. ... We were happy to hear of Teresa Estes how she enjoys eating cream and aqua.

Our hope they will come in to visit us again. Welcome to Bob McIntosh who is now putting his time in our home. Here it is vacation time again. Irish girls from the Emerald Club. They have been here before. Kerrie Berger went to be in the home of her daughter. Our Supervisors Dan Tongue also sent his report from the Emerald. Get well wishes go to Rene Brechard and out you better hurry. Harry J. Rene, we miss your wishtones.

Pulse Transformers (Beaver) by Dorothy Baker

Turn on the fans—open the windows high, warm it get—are just a few exclamations based hinting that summer has arrived. Current events of the month are plentiful. The girls have formed a softball league with John Gaudette as captain. By the way, Evelyn Jones 14th birthday was not on the list not 12! Congratulations and best wishes to Eileen Champagne who will soon be slim and beautiful. June 2nd! Congratulations and best wishes to Eileen Champagne who will become President of the Emblem Club. By the way, the night shift. Also welcome to	Rene, we miss your wittiness.

"Where Our Products Go"

The Convair C-131B U.S. Air Force Plane pictured above is known as the Electronic Test Bed Aircraft. This plane is used exclusively by the Air Force for the testing of electronic gear and equipment under actual flight conditions to which the equipment will eventually be subjected. Sprague components play an interesting and important part in this test program.

The picture to the right shows the distribution panel just inside the exit door and to the rear of the cockpit. On the lower half of the panel are five Sprague niters, three of which were produced at the Pacific Division. These particular components act as filters for the radio compass inter-communicating system and other communications equipment. At the top of the panel are three Sprague electrolytic capacitors and other relay units.

In the lower picture is shown the Aircraft Buffet Installation which is used to store food for the crew and may also be used as a unit to drop food and supplies by parachute to troops or other isolated personnel in emergencies. Again Pacific Division filters play an important part in this complex installation.

As in all Sprague Electric equipment and components, QUALITY has made it possible for us to remain competitive and to maintain our position as an important supplier to the most exacting of customers.
