Department, chairman Leonard Black, shared an award of $250 for submitting the idea of having suggestion boxes placed in the kitchen. In addition to these, more suggestions were received from the staff for various improvements and innovations.

Award Won By First Recipient of Sprague Nursing Scholarship

Miss Patricia Levesque was among the recipients of scholarships awarded by the Sprague Electric Company. Her mother, Mrs. Clarence Levesque, was present to receive the award, which will enable her to pursue her studies.

Historical Foundation Created For Electrical Industry

The Sprague Electric Company is making a significant contribution to the electrical industry by establishing the Historical Foundation for the Electrical Industry. This foundation will be dedicated to preserving the history of the electrical industry and promoting educational programs related to its development.

Hyrel Q Capacitor Introduced in Washington and New York

The Sprague Electric Company has introduced the Hyrel Q Capacitor, a component designed for high reliability and performance. The capacitor is available in a range of sizes, and its introduction is expected to have a significant impact on the electrical industry.

Each floor of the huge building in Times Square has its own operation and none is easier with the other's operations. With around 6000 employees, this makes a very lucrative field of operation for these human parasites who prey on the wage earner and his born desire to have everything nice for his loved ones, or who has run out of luck.

dielectric capacitors, which have been ame named Hyrel Q capacitors.

The full of high reliability has been greatly confused, and many national governmental agencies have discussed the "need" for capacitors which would give extreme reliability in important military electronic and navigational services. Very few component suppliers have been able to meet the requirements because of the extensive manufacturing facilities and testing prothe quality assurance and the large amounts of data to prove a safe level of performance.

Sprague has installed at its Beaver reliability capacitor department with a carefully controlled manufacturing schedule, with almost operating rooms-kilometers in certain areas. An extensive test laboratory for environ-components assures the collection of life data from this program, and the results, which are most favorable to these symposia have been welcomed by the guests who attended these meetings. The comments of the invited guests to these symposia represented the major concerns of the United States. More than five hundred key people from the military agencies and the electronic industry attended the meeting.

The technical position of the program, following an address of introduction and welcome by the President, Mr. Julian K. Sprague, were handled by Leonard Patock, Technical Assistant to the President; Carroll G.
Killen, Manager of Field Engineering; Paul Netherwood, Supervisory Engineer; and Bernard Hecht, Qualified Materials Consultant. Mr. N. E.

sales, attended both meetings to welcome the delegates and to discuss with us. The department of our consumers, and Mr. A. C. Bird, Engineering, assisted with the technical questions.

The social arrangements for the symposium, which were most welcome to our guests and were favorably commented on, were made by Sidney L. Chubb, Manager of Advertising and Sales Promotion.

Also acting as hosts at the Washington Symposium were John P.

Washington Office; and Dana Grindyl, James Spool, and Theodore Lemieux

Tucker, George Barchick, Herbert Grilling and Rudolf Graf, of his staff, as well as Mr. Trinkle and Mr. William Rust, Manager of the New York Sales Representative and John Michels, of his staff.

Comments which have been recollected from the guests who attended able, particularly in connection with the fact that Sprague has been willing to share its internal technical knowledge for the benefit of the industry and as a contribution to the national defense in the high reliability needs of military equipment.

the symposia and high reliability program for the future. The New

The Buggy Makers Who Didn’t Give Up

Competition is not an easy way of life. Every so often a business firm is forced to close down because it cannot compete successfully. On the other hand, some 375,000 new businesses are started yearly. There are some who say that competition is bad, and that there ought to be a way to give security to all.

Most people, however, do agree that competition keeps prices down and improves quality. But competition does much more for us than that. It is a great creative force—a spur to achievement.

Competition has brought into existence far more businesses and jobs than it has eliminated. For example, it ruined the buggy business but in its place it created hundreds of new jobs for every job that it made obsolete. For example, it ruined the buggy business but in its place it created hundreds of new jobs for every job that it made obsolete.

Some buggy makers changed over to the automobile business and did better than ever. The real threat of competition is not so much what others do, but what we fail to do. Being a good competitor is the easiest way to win security, and it is a great creative force—a spur to achievement.

by Emily Wladka and Elia Genczi Continuing with vacations in our Department the following people took thirs in July: Celeste Belvour spent hers at Falmouth Heights on the Cape; John Petro, Eastham, Cape Cod, Edy Tatta, Cape Cod, and Bev Marton, Beacon, N. Y.; Jo Collins attended the Eagles National Convention in N. Y. C.; John Bradley belongs to Battery D Co. in Bennington, Vt. and will spend the 2 weeks at Camp Osage, Mo.; Elia Genczi family had a vacation in the Lake George area and at her camp in Rowes, Mass. The following people took short trips to various points of interest: Dot and "Flash" Racette, Orelda Kuzia, Thersesa Barlet and Ettan Royal, George Lescage spent his at home and fishing. The following people spent theirs in and around their home town: Wimpenny, C. Perris, M. Labombard, Larry and Lucille Labombard, Oliver Richards and Evey Shea. Don Roy spent one week wishes for a lot of success in his new venture. Judging from all reports everyone seems to have a wonderful time. Both of your recipients enjoyed themselves very much at the LOG picnic, even though one of us (E. G.) got soaked by one of those sudden showers, which only added to the occasion. Our sincere thanks go to all (especially Ken Brown and of course Mr. J. K. and Mr. R. C. Sprague) who in any way contributed to such a successful outing.

Vacations were enjoyed by Art Morris, Thersesa Barlet, Donald Langer, Ida Giglioti, Mar Riaradian, Jean Brown, Ida Giglioti, and Lee Grillone. These happy youngsters are Daniel Racette, 2 years old, and his sister Debra Ann, 2 months old. They are the grandchildren of Bertha Drury High School in June. We hope you enjoy working with us. Anita Esposti moved to her new home recently. Hope you have good health and good luck while living there, Anita. Have you heard of Pearl, our excellent cook? Everything was marvellous! Oh well, I can boil water — anyone need a sweater? With all the pools Betty jangrow has been winning, we know how she used the money, for a new rubber suit 1957 Chevrolet was just delivered to her door and she recently spent her vacation touring to different cities. Hope you have good luck with it, Betty!

June 13th. An open house was held at Harry’s house, guests were from New York and New Hampshire. The weather was a bit overcast and the temperature quite cool. The KVA boys with Fred Windsor good luck on his new job on Marshall Street. Fred and the KVA boys left on June 19th. John Shaiki spent two weeks in Florida. Robert Bellout passed spent the weekend fishing, sorry to report he had no luck. Helen Fulco is also back from her vacation. What did you do, Lil?... We would like to congratulate Mary O’Neil on her thirty-sixth wedding anniversary which was June 9th. Mary also gave a new son-in-law. Her daughter, Shirley, is expected to be married on June 1st. Best of luck to both of you. Shirley and Sam both know that she could not have her mother with her to hear Steve Driscoll’s departure to take a leave of absence for a while. We’ll all miss you, Shirley. Hope you hurry back.

KVA Stockroom

Everyone of us in KVA are hoping that Marie Bangie’s son recuperates from his illness very soon. Vivian Nadeau and her sister had a wonderful time on their trip to Maine recently. They went fishing on salmon. They came back with a lovely salmon and some beautiful salmon. Walter Kondzel was in New York recently to watch his favorite team, the Yankees, take over first place by beating the White Sox. Harold Brown has finally caught his limit of trout after twenty years of fishing. He is all smiles.

Networking Rolling

We are beckoning you to come and see us on these hot summer days. We will have your Logan reports for quite a while. Mae left for a three month vacation to Florida. Hope they will come back with us soon. Betty, as usual, has some news to tell. Betty Married to Ronald Hurlbut of Indiana, and is quiet these days. Now we know who makes the noise. Evelyn Jones. Vacations are in full swing. Lydia Spooner spent her in New Hampshire, but “summer complaint” put her in bed ache. Helen Williams has some news for us, she is going to a dance looking for cups and saucers. Joan Giros took her “Cindy” to the movies and she loved it. Cindy was pretty good entertainment. THE TRADING POST

Sprague Team In Second Place

The first half of the North Adams City League came to an exciting close with Union's Grill defeatting the Sprague Electric Team in a protest game, thereby copping first place. The Sprague team ended the first half with an 8-4 record. Bill McDonald and Ed. Stefanik, who are among the top ten batters in the league led the Sprague team with batting averages of over .450.

The second half began on July 8 and is a game every weekday at 6 p.m. at Noel's Field.

Members of the team are pictured above in the usual order, Front row: Guido Librandi, Gerald LaVigne, Andrew Darling, Louis Ziter, Coach; Bob McDonough, and Ted Spano. Back row: Paul Magnifico, Stan Kaperniak, John Ariazi, Captain; Ronnie Bush, Ray Farinon, Ernie Rondeau and Ed. Stefanik. Mascots in front, Dave and Mark Ariazi, sons of John Ariazi, supervisor in the Etch House. The Revered Dalton and Dan Jefferies were absent when the picture was taken.

WE CAUGHT 300!

by Lou Vincente

It all started about the 1st of March, as it does each year, that plans were made for the annual Pike fishing trip to Vermont Park in the Province of Quebec and Birch Lake.

Here each year many folks North- ern Pike are taken as the accompany- ment were made for the annual pike fishing trip this year are pictured below: Frank Livsey, Check Inspection; Ray Belding, Filter Development Lab; Lou Vincente, Filter Development Lab and Office; Roger Vincelette, Mold- ing photo will verify. Those making the trip this year are pictured below: Paul Magnifico, Stan Kaperniak, John Ariazi, Captain; Ronnie Bush, Ray Farinon, Ernie Rondeau and Ed. Stefanik. have a good time visiting all their family and friends. Lena Simon-elli's friends have changed her name to Peter because of her new husband. It's a bovish hah. We all think it looks just fine. Angie Cardimino on vacation... We all wish Gloria Noel the best of luck in her forthcoming event—name other than motherhood. We hope that Phyllis Belanger's husband will soon be home from the army and was the winner for the first half of league play. Cliff Domenicini, coach of each team has put together a group of boys from the ages of 13 to 15 and formed one of the finest teams ever fielded since the league was organized. The team is managed by Ray Clividien, who also gives Cliff able assistance in coaching. In our estimation the boys have two of the best games in the league to guide them.

If anyone is interested in watching this outstanding team play, or any other team of the games, the games are scheduled every Monday, Wednes- day, and Friday at Noel's Field, commencing at 6 p.m.

Outstanding players on the Man- agement Team are the two "Ace Pitchers" whose record is 3-0 and Welch with a 2.0 mark. Melito, the leader in the league for RBIs also leads the Management Team in hitting with a 500 average. Marcio is hitting for 500.

The second half starts July 15. Three members of this team have been chosen for "All Star Team," which plays its first game July 13 in Dalton. The Boss selected are Melito, Marcio, and Marcio Jr.
