Al Trottier Named New Editor of LOG

It was announced recently that Al dem Trottier will be the new Editor-in-Chief of the LOG, replacing Kenneth S. Brown. Mr. Brown in turn is preparing for his new role as Manager of Industrial Relations for Sprague's California operations.

At the same time it was announced by the Employee and Community Relations Division that the Publications Section has been combined with the Training Department. Mr. Trottier will be Section Head of the new department, and will be primarily responsible for the various Company publications, including the LOG. He will report to Mr. Courtney W. Flanders who has been appointed to head the Training and Publication Department.

Mr. Trottier joined Sprague in 1955, as a job analyst in the Employee and Community Relations Division. He is a graduate of Norwich University and Drury High School. He is married to the former Martha Mancini and they have two children.

The Suggestion Box

Four Share $185

Suggestions meant a total of $3,257.00 to Sprague employees during the year 1957, an increase of $372.00 over 1956. The average award was $41.00 which is the same as last year's average. 78 suggestions were accepted from 178 submitted which means the percentage accepted is above average.

The January meeting saw an additional $78.00 go to Clemens Alt, bringing his total to $337.00 for his idea to salvage chipped units. Louis Floriot of Tantasqua Formation was awarded $75.00 for his idea for a new production process in that department.

Also, Florence Demarco of Ceramics and Charles Boarden of Check Inspection were awarded $25.00 each for suggesting new ideas in their departments; and a more efficient method of transporting aluminum paws resulted in a $15.00 award for Arthur Heyes.

February Additions To The Management Club

Peter Hobel — Section Head, Cost Department, came to Sprague Electric in 1945. He is a graduate of the Stone Business College, New Haven, Connecticut. Prior to joining Sprague, he worked for American Employers for 22 years and served as Manager of the local office. He is married to the former Dennis Boyle of Bristol, Connecticut. They have three sons.

Richard Nosse — Section Head, Cost Department, came to Sprague Electric in 1942. He attended local schools and Amherst College. He has done graduate work at Harvard Graduate School of Business Administration. He is married to the former Ellen Winor of Providence, Rhode Island. They have one son.

Fiske Madson — Foreman, Check Inspection, came to Sprague Electric in the Dry Tubular Division in 1949. He was transferred to Check Inspection in 1951, promoted to Supervisor in 1952, and recently appointed foreman. Prior to joining Sprague, he worked for both the Wall Street and Gore shoe companies. He is married to the former Jennie North of New Adams. They have one son.

Switch To Safety

(Reprint from QST—September, 1957 issue)

Two recent reports of death by electrocution have forcibly reminded us that amateur radio equipment must be treated with respect and caution. This is good news, but you must be afraid of your gear, nor should your family have to worry because of the nature of your hobby, but there should be an awareness of what is involved. Unfortunately, however, "the work of the breeders contempt" is all too true. Probably all of us at one time or another have been guilty of making a "temporary hookup, in which there were a few expanded connections of terminals which carried more than a hundred volts or so. Likewise the prevalence of 110-volt juice in every household has caused even low voltage to be treated with far less caution than it is wise.

So you think that low voltage is harmless? WELL, BEAR IN MIND THAT IT ISN'T THE VOLTAGE THAT KILLS YOU, BUT THE
As a moral concept, the ideal of human brotherhood has its roots in antiquity.

It finds expression in the implicit answer to Cain's evasive question: "Am I my brother's keeper?"

In all of the truly great works of man, in all of the contributions to humanity made by philosophers and prophets, scientists and artists, poets and priests, it has been the golden thread of continuity.

And no less, it has imbued the countless acts of neighborly friendliness, of selfless charity, of quietly heroic sacrifice which have graced the relations among the human beings who inhabit this earth.

It is an ideal which, to be sure, too often has been tragically honored in the breach rather than in the observance.

But, even as a flower turns and reaches toward the sun, so mankind, through the religious, social and political progress of civilization in its various forms, has struggled toward the ideal of human brotherhood.

It has yet to be fully attained. We human beings, with all of our fallibility and imperfections, keep falling short of the goal.

And throughout history, the various engines of tyranny, up to and including the brutal materialism of the Communists, have been aimed at crushing it.

But, as the National Conference of Christians and Jews reminds us with the annual observance of Brotherhood Week, it is an ideal which will not be denied.

The men of good will within the conference serve the ideal of brotherhood not just for a week and not just by lip service, but steadfastly through deed and example.

And by their example they tell us, with all the eloquence of earnest sincerity, that the peoples of the world must live together as one family.

and against the background of clash and conflict, and hate and fear and prejudice, the age-old lesson assumes a dramatic and imperative urgency.

This is not merely the best way to human peace and freedom.

It is the only way.
Valentine's Day

For this month the Editors felt they would utilize the Valentine theme in an educational manner. Helping them depict the origin of Valentine's Day is Barbara Simon, of Sprague Products. Barbara has been with Sprague for over a year and a half, she is nineteen years old and her hobbies include reading, roller-skating and bowling.

A Roman priest, Valentine, Bishop of Spoleto, preached that love was a good enough basis for marriage—not money, or social advancement. This alone was enough to preserve his memory among lovers of all times. The good Bishop was beheaded February 14, 270 A.D. for refusing to worship the pagan gods.

Skiing

The 17th annual Berkshire interscholastic ski meet was held recently and a total of twelve prep and high schools met to challenge Drury, the champion for the past two years. The meet was broken into four events: cross-country, downhill racing, slalom, and jumping.

The Drury team, however, was less fortunate in its bid to win its third straight championship. The Blue Devils failed in the downhill racing, as a foot of new snow hampered the skiers and caused irregular conditions. Drury finished third in the final standing behind Lenox Prep, the winners, and Ho-Ho-Kus, but was ahead of all the competing Western Massachusetts High Schools.

Although Drury did not leave as champion, their ace skier, Craig Vittone, Scully, Marlow, Gallese, St. Denis, and Father Damien, finished second; while the host team, Williams, finished fifth.

Basketball

Highlighting the sports activities this past month were the upsets on the basketball courts by area schools. The first one being the victory of Adams over the highly-rated Pittsfield quintet in the Northern Berkshire League. Adams, by defeating Pittsfield, became the first team to remain in the contest. The victory also enabled Adams to maintain their undefeated record on the home court for over the past two years.

Here in North Adams, our future professors from N.A.S.T.C. put together everything they had to turn in a highly rated and favored New Britain, Conn., Teachers College team 67-55 in a recent conference game. The victory was one of the college's biggest in years and it was only the second loss by the New Britain team in their first sixteen games.

The Williams College team also joined the upset ranks as they defeated Springfield College. With Captain Jeff Marion having one of his best nights, scoring thirty-one points, Williams snapped Springfield's six-game winning streak. J. B. Morris, who scored only two points that night, gave Williams its well-deserved victory as he dunked two successive foul shots with only four seconds remaining in the contest. Final score was Williams 57, Springfield 56.

Sprague Electric Log

Where Our Products Go

Pictured above is IBM's new 608 transistorized during assembly. On each of the wiring boards are found 2 Sprague 312 Pulse Transformers, a 30D miniature electrolytic and four 1815's sub-miniature capacitors. Manufacturers like IBM choose Sprague components which have proven themselves outstanding in past usage.

Do you work on the rig only when all voltages are turned off? (even the 110 can kill). Does your family know where the main switch is so that all power to the transmitter and receiver can be killed if you get into trouble? Does someone in the family know how to administer artificial respiration? Are all racks and chassis grounded for protection against accidental shorts? Ham radio is fun, but don't make fun of its dangers.
Would you be the first to go to the Moon?

Teddy William Hopkins "Pack my bags Ma, I'm off!"

We have recently taken a survey of the younger ones to find out just how they feel about being the first United States citizen to take a trip to the moon. It is quite a trip for some of them. Shown below each picture are the comments made by the future leaders of our country.

to Springfield with the boys. Steve Godoy went to the New England General Hospital for x-rays. He's back to work. Glad to see Al Chadburn and Russ Yarber back to work on the plastic shift. Louie (Yanke) Eses is back on days. He said he was going to get the bowling team back on the right track. Hope you can, Louie, but you'll have to get luck somewhere. Like the saying goes, that's the last man in the corner, but it is Ed Speck with a name like (Shadow of Clark Gable). Nick Sarni is our marathon gardener. On January 26th, he picked lilies from his garden.

the victory, 54-33. The return engagement was slightly different and a nip and tuck battle was on throughout the game. With just four minutes remaining in the game, Drury's ace were, Mike Dowling, who was causing some grief to Tom Prine throughout the game, broke loose with many steals and accumulated five successive baskets to give his team a comfortable lead. From then on Drury went on to widen the gap and the team scored a well-deserved 62-42 victory.

The Sprague Electric basketball team, composed chiefly of Sprague employers is coached by Bob Mc-Donough of the R & E Department, who also plays on the team. The team plays an independent schedule and presently in playing 500 percent beard of ball. Among their string of victories are decisions over Co. K of North Adams and the Willsomtown Independents, who have many star performers. The Sprague team also has some talented players like Ron Bat and Bob Clark who are prolific scorers and Ron Bolls along with Dick Varanze and Harry Munsfer who are hard working boards men. The playmaking combination of Allie McPherson and Bill Minardi adds color and perfection to the squad.
