Fun Night

The basement halls of the North Adams Methodist Church literally rocked from the shrieks and laughter of nearly 165 children who were guests of the Sprague Management Club as its annual "Fun Night". A turkey dinner with all the trimmings was served by the Naomi Chapter, Eastern Star. All during the meal three chosen from the Clown-O-Rama Act of Boston circled around the tables, causing shouts of joy from the delighted youngsters.

Following the meal the clowns put on a show of magic and tricks. With the children aiding the clown in the magic tricks, the audience of children and adults was in a continuous uproar.

Gifts were distributed to each youngster at the end of the evening. They received dolls, photo albums, polo ponies, spool bottle sets, plastic rifle target games and horseshoe games.

Arrangements for the evening's entertainment were made by Carl Perry, Vice-President and Program Chairman of the Club.

Our best wishes are extended to Emily Filiault who has left the Material Control Department to await a visit from the boss. Emily was presented a lovely gift from her co-workers. We would like to welcome her replacement, Ann Voelker. Hope you enjoy working with us, Ann. The vacation season is well under way, Mr. and Mrs. Teflik enjoyed two very pleasant weeks in Florida. They made the trip in a beautiful 1960 red and white convertible Chevrolet. We understood there will be wedding bells in August for Carol Roy and Michael Porter who recently became engaged... We have another engagement. Mary Meranti and John Aldrich. Congratulations to all of you... With the holding season over, the Sprague Keys of which yours truly is a member, finished the year in second place.

Flash No. 2 — Working On A Shoe-string: Everyone knows that living on a shoe-string is a difficult task, but in this case, Manager Adam Novak had such a problem recently when he attempted to bow with the courtesies of the season. He was planning to give his daughter a Christmas present that he knew she would appreciate.

Flash No. 3 — Real Love: Phyllis Schmidt, though she is no longer with us, has given many of us great inspiration and the joy of knowing that in this world, there are still people who care. When she learned of her own mortality, she decided to focus on the love and joy in her life and not dwell on the pain. She stepped into position, prepared her heart and soul to leave, and found true love and happiness in the last moments.

Flash No. 4 — Inspiration and zest for living. Many of us have suffered the agonies of being ill, but there are those who remain resilient and inspire us with their strength. John Davis spent a week fishing and golfing, enjoying his favorite pastimes and his love for the outdoors.

Flash No. 5 — Essential to blow out the other person'sテストEquipment: Everyone knows that living on a shoestring presents many problems. While there he saw President Eisen-berg's office, how he worked, and sometimes how he dealt with his colleagues. The orders were going out just like they were supposed to, but we do have a few dyed heads wondering what Ray Blair would do if she didn't know how to sew. So now Saturday finds Al Bourassa in a training session for Junior Magnetic Finish. He is working in the Lab upstairs for a new day. We have some pretty good Surfaces, and one is a thin crust that John Aldrich will find the home of his dreams soon so that he can set his wedding date. We are all looking forward to that big day, John...! Huckabee Finn, none other than Ed Strople, these days have feet and fishing rods, but wrong location. Some inspiration, Ed.

SOFTBALL SEASON OPENS

The Sprague Inter-Plant Softball League recently launched its season with ten teams entered in the league. Serving again as President is the able George Champagne, while Henry Doane will direct all activities as commissioner.

Major changes this year are the elimination of the three inning compulsory participation rule. The second half will be a round robin series as compared to a first half schedule. Winners of each half will meet in a play-off series for the league championship.
